Chapter 316: The Divine Livestock of Creation

Sung Jin-Woo, seated on his immense throne within the Umbra Citadel, gazed at the ever-expanding multiverse. With civilizations flourishing under his guidance, he saw the need for divine creatures to sustain and enhance these growing societies. Using the lesser fruits of the Divine Trees, he crafted a new class of creations: Divine Cattle and Livestock, tailored to enrich the lives of his followers.

Divine Cattle and Livestock

1. Aether Bovine

Appearance: Majestic cows with luminous, silver hides and golden horns that radiate soft light.

Purpose: Produce Aether Milk, imbued with restorative properties that heal injuries and enhance vitality.

2. Celestial Ovines

Appearance: Sheep with wool resembling clouds, glowing faintly in white and pastel hues.

Purpose: Their Celestial Wool can be spun into divine fabrics resistant to heat, cold, and spiritual corruption.

3. Radiant Goats

Appearance: Goats with shimmering coats that reflect the colors of dawn.

Purpose: Their milk is rich in divine energy, used for rituals, blessings, and strengthening weaker beings.

4. Eclipse Stags

Appearance: Deer with coats that shift between black and gold, crowned with antlers shaped like crescents.

Purpose: Their flesh provides divine nourishment, and their antlers can be harvested to craft tools that channel celestial energy.

5. Lunar Swine

Appearance: Pigs with silvery hides that sparkle under moonlight.

Purpose: Their meat, called Lunar Feast, is a delicacy that enhances spiritual and physical endurance.

6. Solar Fowls

Appearance: Birds resembling chickens with golden feathers that emit a soft, warm glow.

Purpose: Their eggs, known as Solar Orbs, provide immense energy and can power divine machines for a day.

7. Mystic Rabbits

Appearance: Rabbits with fur that shimmers like starlight, with long ears that glow faintly.

Purpose: They multiply rapidly and are bred for their Mystic Pelts, used in crafting enchantments.

8. Draconic Oxen

Appearance: Massive oxen with scales over their hides and small dragon-like wings.

Purpose: Used for labor in divine realms, their strength is unparalleled, and they plow divine lands with ease.

9. Aurora Peafowls

Appearance: Peafowls with tails that display shifting auroras.

Purpose: Their feathers are used in rituals to call upon divine favor, and their presence uplifts morale.

10. Ethereal Bees

Appearance: Translucent bees that glow faintly and hum melodious tunes.

Purpose: Produce Ambrosial Honey, a divine nectar that strengthens immune systems and prolongs life.

Integration with the Realms

These divine livestock were distributed across the realms, particularly to the Shadowkins, Dragonkins, and Heavenly Soldiers, to bolster their civilizations.

Their byproducts—milk, wool, meat, and other materials—became the cornerstone of the ever-growing divine economy, supporting the Divine Accord’s grand vision.

Worshippers and priests saw these creatures as blessings, further solidifying their faith in Sung Jin-Woo.

A Flourishing Multiverse

With the introduction of divine livestock, civilizations under Sung Jin-Woo’s dominion began to thrive like never before. The Absolute One’s creations ensured that every living being had access to the resources needed for growth, prosperity, and defense.

As he observed the flourishing realms, Jin-Woo’s vision of a united, empowered multiverse seemed closer than ever. Yet, he knew the journey to perfection was ongoing, and he prepared for the challenges that lay ahead.